Radiological report on chest x-ray of an applicant for an Australian visa

Form

Forms 1071i Health requirement for permanent entry to Australia and 1163i Health requirement for temporary entry to Australia provide information on Australia's health requirements.

The Department of Immigration and Citizenship (the department) is authorised to collect and use the personal information on this form under section 60 of the Migration Act 1958. When you complete this form and give it to the doctor or clinic, the Commonwealth of Australia becomes the owner of the information on the form. The doctor is required to send the form to the department.

Your responsibilities

The costs of medical examinations are paid by you directly to the doctors or clinics undertaking the examinations. There may be additional costs if further tests or couriers are required.

Outside Australia

If outside Australia you must attend the same radiology clinic during the course of your health assessment.

If you are an applicant for a visa under Australia's Offshore Refugee and Special Humanitarian Program the Australian Government provides arrangements to cover the costs of your medical examinations.

In Australia

If you are in Australia and you have applied for a protection visa, special arrangements may apply in regard to the costs of medical examinations.

How to make an appointment for your chest x-ray

Outside Australia

If you only require a chest x-ray, please contact your closest Panel radiology clinic and if necessary, obtain a referral from a Panel doctor or your local doctor. If you also require a medical examination, first contact a Panel doctor who will refer you to a Panel radiologist. For details see www.immi.gov.au/contacts/panel-doctors/

In Australia

For a chest x-ray in Australia you must contact the nearest Health Services Australia (HSA) office. You can make an online booking at www.hsagroup.com.au

Alternatively, see www.hsagroup.com.au for contact numbers and address details or under HSA or Health Services Australia in the White Pages™ telephone book.

Note: If you are in Australia and you have applied for a protection visa, you must see a doctor at HSA city premises, not an Approved Medical Practitioner (AMP) in a regional area.

Pregnant visa applicants and the chest x-ray requirement

The department does not recommend that a pregnant visa applicant undergoes a chest x-ray. This is because there is a risk that a chest x-ray could harm the unborn child. It is recommended that a pregnant visa applicant defers her chest x-ray, and therefore the decision on her visa application, until after the child's birth.

A pregnant visa applicant should firstly contact the department to discuss her options, including the possible deferral of her visa application.

If you decide to defer the chest x-ray until after the child's birth

A pregnant visa applicant should advise the department if she decides to defer her chest x-ray until after the child's birth.

If you are prepared to undergo a chest x-ray while pregnant

If a pregnant visa applicant is prepared to undergo a chest x-ray, it is recommended that she consults with her doctor before arranging her appointment for a chest x-ray and that special precautions are taken (eg. using a protective lead shield and waiting until at least the second trimester). A pregnant visa applicant must sign the declaration on page 4 before undergoing a chest x-ray.

Undergoing a chest x-ray does not guarantee the grant of a visa. The result of the chest x-ray must be found to be normal. Where a chest x-ray shows abnormalities, the visa applicant may be asked to undergo more specific tests and a course of treatment.

What to bring to the examination

Any previous chest x-ray films you have, particularly those from the last 5 years. The radiologist may ask you to submit these film(s) to the department if they consider it necessary to assess your health.

Identification

A valid passport is the mandatory identification document.

However, in exceptional circumstances such as:

- you are unable to obtain a passport without a visa due to laws in your country of origin;
- your passport is at the department for processing of your visa application;
- your passport is at the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) or the International Organization for Migration (IOM) for processing in relation to a refugee application or other Australian visa;

- you are unable to obtain a passport due to political or other circumstances in your country of origin; or
- your passport is not suitable for identification purposes (eg. passport photograph is of a baby and with passage of time the photograph is no longer satisfactory);

the following may be acceptable:

- a verified copy of the front page of the passport endorsed by the Australian Consulate;
- national identity document (incorporating a photograph, name, date of birth and signature);
- alternative identification documents – other identification documentation requested by the department or the department's contracted service provider.

If you do not bring acceptable identification documentation to the medical examination the processing of your visa application may be delayed.

Note: If you are a refugee, humanitarian or protection visa applicant special arrangements regarding identification may apply.

What happens after the health examination?

You may be required to undergo further tests. The reports will be sent to the department by the doctor. However, if the doctor gives you the envelope containing the x-ray film and the report please do not open the envelope. Contact your case officer to determine where to send the medical results.

Note: If envelopes or reports are tampered with you may be required to repeat tests at your own expense.

About the information you give

The department is authorised to collect information on this form under the Migration Act 1958. The information provided on this form, will be used to assess your health for an Australian visa. Test results will not necessarily lead to a visa being denied. Your result(s) may be disclosed to the relevant Commonwealth, state and territory health agencies and chest x-ray clinics.

The information provided might also be disclosed to agencies who are authorised to receive information relating to adoption, border control, business skills, citizenship, education, health assessment, health insurance, health services, law enforcement, payment of pensions and benefits, taxation, review of decisions, child protection and registration of migration agents.

The information forms 993i Safeguarding your personal information and 1243i Your personal identifying information, available from offices of the department, give details of agencies to which your information might be disclosed.

8 Recommendation

Please consider the information you have provided about this applicant. You must consider if there exists any significant finding on the x-ray. ‘Significant’ means that a finding has a current or potential future health impact. The presence of congenital fusion of the rib, benign rib anomalies, old rib fractures, cervical ribs, and mild scoliosis, should be graded as A. All other abnormalities, including those of the heart and other soft tissue and bony structures, must be graded B. This includes, but is not limited to, sternal wiring, valve replacements, vascular stents, missing breasts, osteolytic lesions. All TB, whether old and likely to be inactive, or active, must be reported as B.

Note: This is not a rating of whether the applicant will meet the health criteria. For further guidance, see ‘Instructions for medical and radiological examination of Australian visa applicants’ or, if a protection visa applicant, ‘Guidelines for medical and radiological examination of applicants for onshore protection visas’.

To the radiologist:

Place the form and report(s) inside a secure envelope.

If outside Australia:

- attach the envelope to the packaged x-ray;
- do not give the envelope containing the form and the report to the applicant.

If you are in Australia, the x-ray does not need to be included.

Return the package direct to:

- the officer of the department specified in the attached covering letter; and/or
- the return address specified in the 'Office use only' section on page 3 of this form; or
- to the referring panel doctor, if applicable; or
- as specified in the 'Where to send Australian visa medicals' document; or
- for cases examined in Australia, according to local arrangements with HSA.
